SELEX Galileo signs a Memorandum of Understanding with Cobham Aviation Services Australia to pursue programme opportunities worldwide

SELEX Galileo of Finmeccanica and Cobham Aviation Services Australia, part of the Cobham Group, have recently signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to further promote their already successful collaboration in the surveillance systems' market.

Under this new MoU, the two companies will create a joint working group to identify, analyse and evaluate market opportunities in the surveillance sector, to be pursued on through dedicated partnership agreements.

In 2007 SELEX Galileo secured a contract from Surveillance Australia, also part of the Cobham Group, to supply the airborne, land and mobile segments of the Surveillance Information Management system. The airborne segment includes 12 systems to be installed both on fixed and rotary wing aircraft of the Surveillance Australia and Australian Helicopters fleets.

About SELEX Galileo;

SELEX Sensors and Airborne Systems Limited and Galileo Avionica SpA now operate internationally as a single company, within Finmeccanica, known as SELEX Galileo. SELEX Galileo provides world class capabilities in surveillance, protection, tracking, targeting, avionics and imaging systems.
